

Help local people with cancer and save yourself some time and money this Christmas by taking part in Maggie's Merry Messages!

Last year Maggie's launched a fun and innovative Christmas Campaign, which will save you time, money, do your bit for the environment..... and help Maggie's Edinburgh Cancer Centre all at the same time!

Maggie's Merry Messages encourages people to write their Christmas messages to friends and colleagues on a large (A1), specially-designed, festive poster in place of sending Christmas cards. People can write their Christmas message on the poster for all to see, making a donation to the charity in the process. The poster can be displayed on a notice board, in a staff room or canteen so everyone can view it.

Any group of people who send cards to each other can get involved, whether it's a company, a club, a hospital department, a place of worship, a school, or even a council department. It's so easy, once you have decided the campaign could work for you, contact your local Maggie's fundraiser (details below), you will be given a poster, donation envelopes and clear instructions on how it works.

Please do let me know if this is something you might be interested in. I'd be delighted to tell you more.

Kind regards

Marion x

Marion Taylor, Community Fundraiser
Maggie's Cancer Caring Centre

The Stables, Western General Hospital, Crewe Road, Edinburgh, EH4 2XU

Telephone: 0131 537 3135 Mobile: 07825 056 385

Email: marion.taylor@maggiescentres.org